DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because "means" should be omitted.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference characters "20" and "10" have both been used to designate protection means (page 7). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Figure 2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yashima '618.

Yashima discloses a riser (4) provided with means (6, see Figs. 3,4,5) for protecting the riser from impact. Tensioning means (8). The protection means is suspended from the vessel (see Fig. 1, col. 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-6 and 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yashima (US 4505618) in view of Travis (US 4844213).

Yashima discloses a riser (4) provided with means (6, see Figs. 3,4,5) for protecting the riser from impact. The protection means is suspended from the vessel (see Fig. 1, col. 2). Yashima discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Yashima lacks protection means having a plurality of conical shaped elements attached to each other by chains and tensioning/stretching means. Travis teaches protection means having a plurality of conical shaped elements (12) attached to each other by chains (18,20) (see Figs. 1-3) and tensioning/stretching means (member 22 and the last of member 12 depicted in Figure 1). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Yashima by substituting the protection means as taught by Travis for the protection means disclosed by Yashima in order to protect the riser from ice floes and to absorb the vertical energy inflicted from waves onto the protection means.

With regards to claim 5, Fig. 12 of Travis teaches mounting the protection means to the ground by wires (120).

7. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yashima in view of Travis as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Wiener (US 2859836).

Yashima (once modified) discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, the (once modified) Yashima lacks a collar. Wiener teaches a collar (13). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to further modify the (once modified) Yashima to include a collar as taught by Wiener in order to prevent any damage to the riser from the stretching means.
